Which rights appear on the list?
- The right to access?
- The right to privacy?
- The right to create public knowledge?
- The right to quality and care?
- The right to be teachers?
- The right to own one's personal data and intellectual property?

What is digital literacy?
Digital Literacy includes internet, information, digital media, communication, technology, and computer literacy skills.

"The awareness, attitude and ability of individuals to appropriately use digital tools and facilities to identify, access, manage, integrate, evaluate, analyse and synthesize digital resources, construct new knowledge, create media expressions, and communicate with others, in the context of specific life situations, in order to enable constructive social action; and to reflect upon this process."
Allan Martin, 2006.
