How to Change Course Availability

When course sections are created they are set to unavailable so students cannot access a course that is under development. The Instructor must make a course available before students enrolled in the course will be able to view or access the course and its content.

How to Make a Course Available before the start date of the course

From inside a course where you are an instructor:

1. Turn Edit Mode ON.

3. Under Set Availability, click Yes to make the Course available to students.
4. Under Set Course Duration, select the radio button next to Continuous to make the course available immediately.

5. If you want students to access the course only after the start date of the course, then select the Select Dates radio button. The students will only be able to view the course during the period between the start and end dates. When choosing this option students will see similar to what is in the image below on their course listing.
